

So, your engine is...

...smoking?...missing?...running rough?

If your engine is not performing up to expectations, your injectors may have developed a type of hard deposit formation that is impacting many modern fuel systems. High pressure fuel systems used with some ultra-low sulfur diesel fuels may develop varnish or lacquer deposits which may result in rough running, excess fuel usage, poor performance, and/or hard starting.

West Side Tractor Sales can clean your diesel fuel system of these hard deposits and restore the throttle response and fuel efficiency to your equipment.
